

About 15% of the U.S. Population was Born in Another Country

The trend has accelerated around the time the 'Boomers' started to approach retirement age and as globalization increased after the Cold War.

